DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

Claims 1 and 2 are objected to because of the following informalities:

In claim 1, the "Cat Toy", should be perhaps, --A cat toy--, for the sake of grammatical correctness.

In claim 2, lines 1 and 2 of the claim recite the limitation of, " Cat Toy as claimed in claim 1 wherein the final gear of gear reduction assembly said is slidably engaged". The Examiner suggests the following change, --A cat toy, as claimed in claim1, wherein the final gear of the gear reduction assembly is slidably engaged--.

Applicant's prompt and appropriate correction is required.

Specification

Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 150 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details.

Art Unit: 3644

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc.

The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because it is replete with the legal phrases, such as "said" in lines 7, 8, 9, 12 and 13; indefinite language (or the like) in line 10 of the abstract; "who's" in line 4 of the abstract, should be replaced with --having an-- Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter, which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1 and 2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Regarding claim 1, the phrase "or the like" renders the claim(s) indefinite because the claim(s) include(s) elements not actually disclosed (those encompassed by "or the like"), thereby rendering the scope of the claim(s) unascertainable. See MPEP § 2173.05(d).
